Please be advised that after a period of consultation with relevant stakeholders, we are pleased to accept the findings of the draft evaluation report and have found no significant issues which need to be addressed. I have attached a copy of the draft report I reviewed which includes a few grammatical / spelling errors I picked up, that you may like to review before finalising the report. Please note any formatting changes which appear on the document seem to be older changes made by you – it looks like when I’ve converted the PDF back to Word to allow editing, its included historical track changes.

We look forward to receiving the final copy of the report at your earliest convenience and thank you for your efforts in conducting this evaluation on our behalf.

Please advise if there is anything else I can assist with.

Sorry Sch4 – that was just a thought bubble for myself which I meant to remove before returning, my bad!

If you do have a minute this morning I'd appreciate a quick chat actually – I am drafting a briefing report for executive and just wanted to check something with you at your convenience

Hi

Following our phone conversation earlier this week, can I please ask when we are likely to see the final publication copy of the hub evaluation report?

I have been asked from various areas within the organisation and we still have an invoice outstanding which I can't progress for payment until we have received the report.

Your advice on this is appreciated.
