Police were transporting the offender from Logan Central Station to Southport Watch House in marked Toyota Hiace police van with Queensland Registration 470CU5. The police van has a closed circuit TV system installed to show live time what is occurring in the prisoner holding cell at the rear of the vehicle. During the trip to Southport Watch House the offender has become increasingly agitated, banging his head on the interior of the cell and yelling out and swearing at the officers transporting him. Sergeant HUGHES was the passenger in the police vehicle and was monitoring the CCTV feed from the holding cell in real time. Sergeant HUGHES observed the defendant to spit onto the floor of the holding cell before spitting a further two times onto the Perspex window showing into the front of the vehicle. The camera is mounted directly above the Perspex and clearly showed spittle on the camera from the defendant. Due to the risk of transmission of disease and basic hygiene it is required that officers must remove the vehicle from use until the rear pod can be sanitised and cleaned.

GENERAL REPORT

As per the MO. Sergeant HUGHES observed the offender to spit three times in the cell area of the van. Senior Constable ENOCH was the driver of the vehicle at the time, however he did not observe the offender spit due to keeping his focus on the road. After leaving the watch house, Sergeant HUGHES took photos of the cell, which showed dried spittle on the internal window of the cell.. SOC not required.

GENERAL REPORT

Offences as per MO. Continuation of linked job. Whilst transporting CTP to the Ipswich District Watchhouse, Police observed her banging her wrists and handcuffs up against the Perspex viewing glass in the pod attached to the Police vehicle. Police then observed CTP to only have the handcuffs attached to her right wrist, managing to slip from the left wrist. Police then observed CTP do use the opened cuff to smash against the Perspex viewing glass multiple times, before stopping for a period to take a close look at the Perspex, running her hand slowly over it. Police then arrived at the Ipswich District Watchhouse where they attempted to verbally command CTP out of the vehicle and into the padded cell. CTP immediately told Police to 'fuck off' causing Police to grab her to remove her from the vehicle. Whilst doing this, CTP has began swinging the open cuff in the direction of CTPI, striking her at least once on the left forearm, and potentially right hand. CTP was then physically restrained in the padded cell, however continued to kick her legs towards CTPI. Police then removed the handcuffs and themselves from the cell, however CTP got up and aggressively approached Police, causing her to have to be pushed back into the cell and restrained once more. Police then arranged a pat down search with more Watchhouse staff, and the staff observed CTPI PIU advised and taking carriage. Photographs taken of injuries and damage, Police witnesses, Watchhouse CCTV and BWC. SOC not required. .

Narrative:
MO

At about 1345hrs on the 05/03/2023 the nominated offender was involved in a physical altercation at C KINGSTON. Police attended and the offender was walking down the street, swearing and drinking a glass bottle of alcohol. When told to stop by Police the offender refused and smashed his bottle on the ground. Police placed the offender under arrest for public nuisance offence and attempted to place handcuffs on the offender. The offender violently struggled against Police. Police eventually placed cuffs on the offender and walked him to marked Police vehicle. When Police attempted to place him in the rear of Police vehicle the offender braced himself and pushed backwards against Police. Police were involved in a physical struggle and placed the offender in the rear of the Police vehicle. The offender then began smashing the rear Perspex of the sedan with his cuffed hands. Police removed the offender from the marked sedan and placed him in marked Police van with QLD registration 973ER2. Whilst in the rear of this vehicle, the offender spat all over the windows and seat of the pod. The offender was then transported to Beenleigh Watch house.

GENERAL REPORT

The offence occurred as per the MO. The offender was also outstanding on a Bail Act Warrant. Police transported the offender to Beenleigh Watch house and charged him in relation to public nuisance, obstruct, wilful damage offences. Police BWC footage available. Police were required to clean out the rear of the nominated Police vehicle as the offender has spat everywhere. SOC not required. .
