

Information for victims of property crime

Everyone has the right to feel safe.

This resource has been developed by the Queensland Police Service to provide support and guidance to victims of home and vehicle crime.

✓ Reporting a crime

If a crime is happening now, call Triple Zero (000).

If not, think Policelink and report online.

Find us at www.police.qld.gov.au/policelink-reporting

? What happens when a property crime is reported?

When a crime such as a break-in or vehicle theft is reported to Police, an investigation may occur, including:

- Gathering of evidence and any surveillance footage available,
- Locating, interviewing, and apprehending offender/s,
- If able, returning any stolen property to the victim.

✓ Making an insurance claim

If your property or any valuable items have been stolen or damaged and you have an existing insurance policy covering this property, ensure to notify your insurance provider of the completed Police report.

Your insurance provider may guide you through the claims process and explain what is and isn't covered by your policy, as well as the next steps.

✓ Reviewing your home security

If there was damage to your home, it is important to repair and reinforce entry points. If your keys were stolen, consider arranging a locksmith to change the locks as soon as possible.

Using the camera on your mobile device, you can scan the QR Code to access the QPS Home Security Guide to assist in enhancing your home security measures.

Are you a homeowner aged 60 years and over?

- The 'Helping Seniors Secure Their Homes' scheme provides financial assistance for eligible homeowners ages 60 and over for the installation of security measures.
